A small town on a peaceful night. People in the town are friendly and know each other, everyone likes planting flowers, and there are travelers playing saxophone in the streets at night. Young people like to run along the town's alleys, old people like to sunbathe on the balcony, and couples like to date on the alleys. Birds and moons and brick walls and churches and jellyfish.

An old man and an old lady were walking together, and the two were sitting together drinking tea. A bunch of flowers fell at the door. A man in firefighter clothes was cleaning the flowers at the door. A man climbed up the ladder to the second floor. A Santa Claus suddenly appeared in front of the house. The house number is 384-386. There was an adult holding a child. The adult watched the child play in front of the fountain, chairs, rubber-shaped stools, the moon, and a wall covered with flowers.
